FINANCE AND TRADE.

FINANCIAL MATTERS On Madison Financial Matters on Madison street were of the usual routine character yesterday; a fair degree of activity existed, but without change. Exchange remained at 14 theount buying on New York; seiling at par; New England sight & discount, selling at par; demand same as New York; New Or leans buying at 14 discount op par, selling at 14 premium. Gold quo ed in New York at noon lost; in Memphis localist. The New York Bulletin says: "The recent decline in gold naturally strungthens the market for foreign exchatge; first by diministing for the market the expert movement of domestic products, and second by stimulating a demand need the expert movement of demand for bills from the importers. Silver, in London, to lay, was quoted 521 per unce. At he New York equivalent, the gold value of he old sliver dollar would, to day, have been 0878; the gold value of the proposed sliver collar would have been $2854. The gold value of the proposed sliver collar would have been $2854. The gold value of the trade dollar to-day was $2858, and the gold or buildon value of two halves, four quarters or ten dime to-day was $2820." The New York Times, of Monday, reports: "The raise of exchange on New York at the undermen lone; cities to day were: Savennah, selling par, buying discount; the rieston, 5 is discount to per; at, 7 is; bank, 14; Cincinnati, fair demand, loo discount, and chicago, 80 discount." The Times adds that the activity and buoyancy at the coince exchange are evidence that the general recuperation of business has taken deep root in fluencial circles and is producing a beneficial effect upon values. The New York Tribuse states that the banks and irust the tribuse states that the banks and irust beneficial effect upon values. The New Typone states that the banks and trust ing a beneficial effect upon values. The New York Tribune states that the banks and trust comp nies are now generally getting 465 per cent. for the use of their money. The Unclinari Enquirer monitions an active demand for loans at 7 and 8 per cent. The New York Tribune against the shipments of cotton and other produce are taken at % off. The banks in drawing charge at the rate of 21 per thousand presumm. The New York Tribus remarks of gold: "Their have been several reasons for the decline, and unless the short interest is increased to undue proportions a further fall in the price is not improvable. The setusfactory showing of the exportrade of the country, the movement of gold from Lonnon to this side, and the steady steps making toward a resumption of specie payments through the resumption of species payments hence there is little disposition to support the gold market under the circumstances." There was some inquiry for gas toes, which is said to be firm at 26. Shelby county scrip was steady at 85 buying. Shelby county scrip was steady at 85 buying. Shelling. The following dispatch was received at the APPEAL office from Sau Francisco: "Truce dor are, to discount nominal balves, 5255.
